Biotechnology

We represent biotechnology business clients in a myriad of the industry's transactions, including:

- licensing
- sales, acquisitions and support
- co-development and joint venture agreements
- mergers, acquisitions and divestitures
- other financial transactions involving biotechnology-related businesses

In addition to our role as outside general counsel to companies in this industry, our patent practitioners prepare and prosecute a number of patent applications for biotechnology-related entities. A representative list of certain fields include:

- Acupuncture Systems
- Aquaculture
- Irrigation Systems
- Fruit Juice Homogenization Systems
- Medical Devices
- Nutraceuticals
- Pesticides
- Pharmaceuticals
- Plant Growth Enhancement Systems
- Plant Patents
- Produce Processing Systems
- Skin Care Compositions
- Surgical Procedures
- Water Remediation

Our team approach brings together experienced attorneys from multiple disciplines -- corporate, intellectual property, labor & employment, and tax -- to manage the complex and diverse issues involved in biotechnology-related transactions. We also assist clients in negotiation, mediation, arbitration and, if necessary, litigation, when disputes arise.
