Property Taxes

The firm provides representation to property owners in appealing their ad valorem property tax assessments. Our property tax work has extended to nearly every county in the state, although the bulk of this practice is in Central Florida. The property tax work includes review of assessments, direct negotiations with county property appraisers, administrative appeals to the Value Adjustment Board, and tax appeal suits. The firm has represented virtually every kind of property including hotels, golf courses, shopping centers, condominium and apartment projects, retail buildings, vacant land, residential uses, and agricultural uses, as well as tangible personal property.
