

Destination Mars: Public and Private Entities Join Forces to Re-Invigorate Space Travel

Jul 16, 2018

By: Diane Sears

I4 Business Magazine

View Link

When SpaceX launched its new Falcon Heavy rocket into solar orbit in February carrying a red Tesla Roadster car with a mannequin named Starman behind the wheel, the mission touched off a new era in space exploration. Not because it was taking us where no mannequin has ever gone before. But because it was taking mankind into space again, and this time the ultimate decision is Mars. To read more, click the link above.