

Services & Industries

Patent Applications Prosecutions

Patents protect distinctive technology or inventions. Patents are protected by the filing of a patent in the US Patent Office, a task performed by a registered patent attorney. Businesses who wish to obtain patents include start-up technology companies, defense contractors, medical researchers, and university researchers.

Several of the our attorneys are registered patent attorneys and have handled a substantial number of patent filings and prosecutions through to the registration.